RALLY AGAINST THE FARE HIKE

You've probably read or heard about it: the Autorité régionale de transport métropolitain (ARTM- the metropolitan regional transit authority) has announced an increase in the price of public transit fares, with further increases planned until 2025.

The cost of a ticket will rise from 3.50$ to 3.75$ as of next July.

At a time when inflation is impacting people's living conditions and accentuating the poverty of low-income earners with rising rents, rising grocery costs, we are hit with another increase in public transit fares!

It's time again to make Valérie Plante, Mayor of Montreal, and Chantal Rouleau, Minister of Social Solidarity, understand that with this announcement, low-income people will be, once again, those that are left behind!

Let's take action to denounce the rising cost of public transit!
